

SEES RADICAL MESSAGES IN CHRISTIANITY

Camp Meeting Speaker State Revolutionary Church Tasks

MUST FACE MODERN ISSUES SQUARELY

Heads of Protestant and Dry Forces of America Coming Saturday, Sunday

"The business of the church is to demilitarize the thinking of the people," declared Prof. W. D. Schermerhorn of Garrett Biblical Institute at the Des Plaines camp meeting Wednesday afternoon.

"Fifteen great powers have decided that they will not have recourse to war. The man who shouts for war now is no longer a patriot; he is working against his own country."

A new kind of patriotism will have to come before a world Christian civilization is possible, was one of the points of the "modern view" which he explained to his fellow Methodists. As on the Kansas frontier, personal fighting gave way to law, so nations are coming to handle their differences by law.

Christianity Radical

Christian civilization is going to require some radical changes, according to Prof. Schermerhorn. "This world cannot be a White-controlled world, a Christian-controlled world, for as long as the White ('Christian') world insists on dominating, so long the non-white world will refuse to become Christian. 'The time is coming when we can have a Christian world if we are willing to pay the price' of giving up racial antagonisms."

Economic Justice

Equal economic opportunity on the Christian church must insist upon everywhere. In China and Japan our industrial efficiency is copied, but with such an inhuman disregard for the lives of the workers that the factories are virtual slaughter pens. Communism tries to step in, but it only levels down; Christianity levels up.

New Character Education

Character education is another vital need today, the professor said. "Character is the important thing toward which all education must be set." Too many church members are "established" like the mule half-way down the road; they have been in a state of arrested development for years and years; they support the church, attend fairly regularly except in the summer, but after once in the church, they spiritually and understanding have seen no growth. Even public school leaders are becoming tremendously concerned with education for character, he said; the old idea of schooling being a set program with so much to cram till examinations and then drop it all is absurd.

Should Not Soft-Pedal Truth

Many ministers give the impression nowadays that they do not say or preach what they know to be the truth, lest they "unsettle" the minds of the youth. The fact is, the minds of many of the youth are already unsettled; and this age as every age, demands a reevaluation and restatement of the eternal truths of Christianity in the light of its understanding. The idea of "Hush! Hush! Hush!" somebody might be disturbed" is wrong. "Truth is something about which we need not be ashamed." It is time Christians again went deeply into the truths of God, of Christ, of the individual soul, of the church, of the Kingdom of Heaven, and of what is really authority.

No Methodists in Heaven

To try to convert nations civilized thousands of years before our own, to one great thing we can take to them is Christ, not Methodism, nor Presbyterianism or any other minor issue. "There are two places where there are no Methodists—Canada and Heaven. It will be great to see the time when there are no Methodists," he said to those before him, referring to Paul's words "the middle wall of partition between us," and hoping for the day when denominational barriers will be abolished.

Must Reinstate Primitive Christian Powers

The restoring to Christians of the sources of power that first made Christianity vital, is the biggest need of the world and the church today, he concluded. "God is still giving as he was twenty centuries ago."

"We believe in a Christian world and will be content with nothing less."

He chided the apathy of many church members in failing to see or act upon needs of humanity and the marvelous opportunities for Christian service today.

Rev. M. S. Rice, D. D., of the Metropolitan M. E. church, Detroit was the distinguished speaker last evening.

Three days of the camp meeting remain, and will be full of interest. Today is Women's day; the Women's Foreign Missionary society service to be in the morning, with Mrs. Rudolph Malek as speaker. At 1:30 o'clock is the deaconess anniversary with Miss Alice C. Thacher speaking. The Women's Home

POTPOURRI

Of Sense and Nonsense

Thursday morning's paper finds a new cause for divorce. In New York, Mrs. Myrtle Prosten filed suit yesterday for separation on the ground that she was unconscious when she wed. Watch the columnists and satirists capitalize this and tell us that we're all unconscious when we marry.

A movement is on foot in the southwest to call the structure Hoover Dam. We understand that Arizona which claims that all the benefits of the dam go to California will welcome the name if a little reverse English is put on it.

Last week another tribute paid to the women to reach the highest office in U. S. government. President Hoover gave a dinner last week at which Mrs. Hildebrandt was the guest of honor. A wonderful tribute was paid her.

Hoover certainly has a faculty for picking the right men for the right post. His latest appointment is that of L. McCall Judd as governor of our paradise territory, Hawaii. Mr. Judd is a native of the islands and wholly in sympathy with the people he is to govern.

Hack seems to be the logical contender for Gene Tunney's crown. He takes all comers and doesn't ask a million in gate receipts. In fact he cheerfully pays the gate himself. He battled 1000 per cent on one eyes of the Cincinnati Reds in Chicago and promised to keep his eye batting average up when he reached Cincinnati again.

Read that England had only 18 murders last year, the majority of which were solved. And in the same article that no English policeman carries firearms. Two and two don't seem to make four here do they? Compare Chicago police armed with everything from sticks to machine guns trying to solve 400 murders a year, and few convicted.

We must have overlooked that item in the paper for we just found that "Strongheart" is dead. He and Mary Pickford were cinema's perennial stars.

A new television apparatus is now on the market which reproduces before the radio fans eyes, not only the moving figures but in natural colors. Bell Telephone company holds the patents.

The greatest invention since that of the airplane has been announced by the Pitcairn-Gierco Autogiro Co., of America. It is a new type of aeroplane which can practically stand still in the air, can hover five or ten feet from the ground, can take off from a half acre lot and land with ease in any back yard. The Pitcairn concern expects to have everything ready for commercial production within a few weeks. In the North American Review appears an article stating that within the next few years, commuters will own these planes as we now own autos since every man can drive to the loop in his autogiro, park it on the roof and have an attendant stow it away until evening. It will be possible to drive these planes almost as close together as autos as they are easily controlled. Hold on to your land farmers for when this plane is produced in quantities your land will be at a premium. Anything within 90 miles of Chicago will be suburban.

The Cincinnati Enquirer informs us that church pews never skid into a ditch, smash against a telephone pole, or get tagged for speeding. And from what we have seen they are not as crowded as the autos either.

A sionary society meeting is at 2:30, with the address by Mrs. E. W. Matthews. Rev. H. Clifford Northcott, D.D., of the First Church of Champaign, will give the address in the evening.

Saturday will be a big day, Rev. J. Hastie Odgers, superintendent of the Chicago Northern district talks in the morning, and Rev. W. S. Board, secretary of the Board of Education in the afternoon.

Noted Dr. Leader to Bring Message

A ringing message of the Methodist and associated churches on prohibition of the liquor traffic will be brought to what is expected to be a crowded tabernacle in the evening, by Dr. Ernest H. Cherrington of Westerville, Ohio, secretary of the World League Against Alcohol, and director of the department of education of the Anti-Saloon league. No man in the world is better qualified to state the position of the church on this issue, or better to tell of the present outlook.

Protestant Head to Speak

One of the most prominent churchmen in the world, president of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, and perhaps the leading spokesman of Protestant Christianity in America, Bishop E. J. McConnell of New York, will be the preacher morning and afternoon Sunday. As an author and thinker, Bishop McConnell ranks high, and has done much to clarify the thinking of church people on philosophical and social questions. Those who are willing to think, will welcome the opportunity of hearing him.

A joint communion of the English-Speaking, Swedish and Norwegian-Danish camp meeting assemblies will conclude the session in the evening.

MISS ARLINGTON HOME EMBODIES KEEN FEATURES

Service Entrance Is At Side, Close to Front for Convenience

The "Miss Arlington Beauty Home" built near the Southwest corner of South Chestnut and Fairview avenues in Arlington Heights on Clyde C. Young's Arlington Addition by George L. Parker and Son, is a good example of modern tendencies in household design and convenience. Space has been utilized by keen planning.

A feature of this type of house is that the front and service entrances are close together, for convenience to all who have to call at the "back" door and to eliminate the usual unsightly "back yard." The rear of the lot is available entirely for an ornamental or other garden, entirely free from unsightly features. This side door is partly concealed by a buttress wall and hidden steps.

Upon entering into the hallway section, there is a closet immediately at the left for wraps, and a small window on the right. Passing the stairway leading up, one steps into an elegant living room with fireplace and completely furnished by Studtmann brothers. Over the banked windows on the front and sides are interesting wrought iron rods for drapes, furnished by Studtmann brothers, who also provided the curtains, drapes, rugs, and the rug pads. This understating for rugs Mr. Theodore Studtmann says, will double the length of their service, and this has been provided in the living room, dining room and under the stair carpet. The rugs and carpet seem deeper and softer.

The two-piece living room set is of solid mahogany frame, and covered with green floral damask. One very comfortable Naperville chair is covered with fringed cloth. Also in the living room is a Peck and Hills radio of eight tubes and one tube for rectifying, with a dynamic speaker and equipped for making phonograph records from numbers received over the ether.

At the rear of the living room is a sun parlor, with red furniture and accessories by Studtmann.

At the side and rear is the dining room with casement windows on both sides of the room. The nine piece set of modern design, including buffet and china closet, are of walnut with figured burl fronts. Interiors are of oak.

Toward the kitchen is a breakfast nook, with a set by Studtmann. The kitchen, getting back toward the front of the house, has the usual two high windows over the sink and two-way faucet, cellar stairway, and outside vestibule leading to the front-side entrance. A door into the front hall will take care of sudden necessities to get to the front door from the kitchen. A hot water heating plant by Malzahn and Goedke, will be found in the basement, and an outside cellar entrance on the side toward the rear.

Upstairs is a large main bedroom, beautifully furnished. The walnut set is all clear duco finish, which is not easily marred; it is guaranteed for two years against any defect—the bed, dresser, dressing table, bench, chair and rocker. The makers are the White Furniture company of Mebane, North Carolina, as installed by Studtmann. The insides of the drawers are ducoed. Of the room are two very large closets equal in size and facing each other with room for a dressing table and windows between. There are six windows in this big room on the south side of the house, and sunshine comes in all the day long.

The springs of the bed and the mattress are the best of the bed makers' art.

The finished iron bed of handsome design and other pieces to match.

In front is a sewing room with power machine, sewing cabinet, window chair, and two closets. A linen closet is off the hall.

The bathroom has green and yellow antique tile floor and antique weathered tile effect about the walls, with all the kinds of convenience and sanitation.

The house is of brick for the first story and warm-colored stucco for the second story. The outside design has been built around the convenience of the interior. Flowers are blooming around the house as attractively planted by the Arlington Landscaping Co. A more elegant and convenient love nest for the happy couple to be married within its walls can hardly be imagined.

MILBURN BROS. GET PAVING CONTRACT ON PROSPECT AVE.

Mt Prospect Village Board Take Public Service and Phone Co. to Task

Board of Improvements met Tuesday evening with five members present and awarded the paving contract on Prospect avenue to Milburn brothers. Sam Jensen was awarded a small contract on water stubs because the lowest bidder, Giannini had not sufficient references.

The village board met in session then. The clerk was ordered to write to the township supervisors for information as to who is trustee commissioner. It was also ordered to keep on cutting the parkways. Chief Mulso was instructed to buy a new lawn mower, the old one to be repaired in the mean time.

New Law Increases Court Fees; Cash Bonds No Good

The last legislature has done some things that effect all those who come into contact with the law and it is for people who sometimes find themselves in this position, we give this information.

H. B. 480 increase the cost of starting a suit before a Justice of the Peace in that the constable now will receive $2.00 per serving a summons and copy, instead of $1.00 as formerly, plus his regular return services.

H. B. 484 increases costs of filing cases in the Circuit, Superior and County courts from $10.00 to $15.00. These include appeals taken from Justice Courts and the appearance fees in courts of record has been changed from $3.00 to $5.00. Fees for jury trials in courts of record are now $8.00. There is no charge in the jury fees in justice of peace courts.

The Justice Act was amended so as to give Justices and Police Magistrates jurisdiction to hear Civil cases involving claims up to $500.00 instead of $300.00. This is an aid to many who have claims under the $500.00 mark and will save considerable time and money if these matters are placed in the hands of the local Justices instead of the Chicago courts.

It is here that in the majority of cases the local justices can collect claim easier and eliminate many of the hard feelings that might otherwise arise between the litigating parties.

State Attorney Swanson has recently mailed to all justices of peace and police magistrates new recognizances in accordance with the new statutes. Hereafter cash or checks will not be acceptable as bonds for those who are held over to the criminal court, except so far as trust funds, which can be posted in accordance to the trust investment fund law.

Real estate must otherwise be scheduled and the multiplicity of questions that must be answered in this regard number 31 and will prevent abuses in this regard.

DANCE

LT. LAIRD RAIDS TWO SPEAK EASIES

Excuses and Denials Break Down in Court.

SUBSTANTIAL FINES GIVEN

Convictions Follow In Ballard Road Court Week By Week

Lt. Laird and his squad of the county highway police raided June 30, the premises of Mrs. Bertha Hess, known as the Garden Delux located on Commerce Street near the Soo Line tracks in Franklin Park. The officers found a quantity of wine and other intoxicating liquors.

Mrs. Hess, as tried by Judge Ward at the Ballard road police court last Friday, July 5. Although she pleaded with the court that she was a widow and had been in ill health so that it was necessary for her to have this wine as a stimulant, the Judge, upon the recommendation of Assistant States Attorney, Robert L. Donigan, fined Mrs. Hess one hundred dollars and costs.

Mrs. Mary Janersowski, who operates the premises at 9550 Franklin avenue, Franklin Park, was also arrested June 30 by Lt. Laird and his squad for violating the State Prohibition Act. When Mrs. Janersowski was tried by Judge Ward last Friday, July 5, at the Ballard road court, she told the judge that she did not have any liquor and was not selling any liquor at any time.

However, when Laird and his squad raided these premises they arrested a man who was in the place at the time and who had just finished purchasing a pint of moonshine from Mrs. Janersowski. This man testified before Judge Ward that he had bought this liquor from Mrs. Janersowski and on his testimony and the testimony of the arresting officers Judge Ward fined her also one hundred dollars and costs.

ROAD WORK IN COUNTY UNDER WAY

Start Grading on Oakton Street; to Pass Thru Schaumburg Center

TO BE SECOND ELGIN ROUTE

"Worse Road" in Palatine Township To Be No More

Present activity in road building in the western part of Cook county is evidence that the county board is not allowing the dearth of tax money to stop the road building entirely. The present work also includes some highways that will not be completed for several years, but upon which considerable preliminary work is needed. Commissioner Wm. Busse, chairman of the road and bridge committee, stated Thursday morning that so far as is possible the county will follow the road improvement program previously adopted for completion within the next few years. Some of that work may be a little surprising at this time, but paved highways are not built in a day. The Chicago papers carry long accounts of road jams after every holiday. Mr. Busse said, that if the county sits back and stops all road work just because funds are scarce, and makes no effort to prepare for the future, the road conditions would be so bad by 1933 that it would not only seriously affect the comfort of the general public, but would result in great financial loss to all business.

Improvement work along such lines is the work on Oakton street, which, when completed, will be a second paved highway from Evanston to Chicago, passing through the center of Schaumburg. This road is not on the program for completion until several years, but where gaps appear in it, dedication of a hundred foot right of way has been secured from the farm owners. West of Elmhurst road, where grading is now in progress, the dwelling house upon the Edwin Deekes farm will have to be moved. At present Oakton street is paved to Milwaukee avenue. The right of way through Park Ridge has been having underground improvements installed and a new bridge is necessary over the Des Plaines river, where the road will have to be straightened, and where a gas station is at present an obstacle. From River road to Mannheim road, the street is paved. Dedication of the 100 foot street is complete to Arlington Heights road. The present section includes opening of the highway to Higgins road. Its route through Schaumburg township to Elgin will follow later.

Agree on Hillside Ave. in Barrington

The county last year paved Hillside avenue in Barrington, which right of way was moved to the south in order that motorists using the road would have full view of the railroad when approaching the dangerous crossing that is on the Palatine-Barrington township line. Agreements have now been reached whereby the new pavement can be connected with the old crossing and the work completed to the Northwest highway.

Palatine's Worst Road to Be Remedied

Center road in the western part of Palatine township has been little more than a cow path and a disgrace to the township. Work has been started on that road which adjoins the Plate farm, whereby it will be graded forty feet wide. Underbrush, trees and other work is transforming this stretch from an old style country road to a modern highway.

If you get into trouble, it will pay you out. If you get sick, it will pay the doctor's and druggist's bills. If you want to take a trip, it will pay your way. If you want to develop your business or take advantage of some good investment, you can do it at a moment's notice.

But the man without money can do none of these. Instead, whenever opportunity is offered or adversity befalls him, he is forcibly embarrassed.

SouthSide Breezes

Since Arlington Heights is called the town of good neighbors, we, on the South side will use this poem as our guide.

Get Acquainted.
The fellow you hate away down in your heart,
The chap that you think you despise
Might prove in the end the best kind of a friend.
If you'd only open your eyes.

You see but his shell, his heart
you must find,
And be introduced to his soul,
Get acquainted, old chap, you may learn mayhap.
That he's honest and earnest and whole.

The fellow you hate for no reason
on earth,
May be a lot finer than you,
Go out of your way and some pleasant word say,
And you'll see the real man shinin-
ing through.

CHATTER
Hey! Hey! Farmer Firnbach
took another load of hay away!
Contrary to verse Mr. John Firnbach did not take the load of hay away for we have three big haystacks on the lots between Highland and Mitchell which were to be used as playgrounds. These large haystacks are almost irresistible to the "kids" in the South Side for where can one find greater sport than diving off a haystack. Nevertheless we want to ask the children to stay off for their own safety and by the request of the owner.

Tennis seems to be a favorite sport on Mitchell street. It boasts of two tennis courts now. The south side not only encourages social activity but it also promotes sports. In the winter, we had ice skating ponds in the summer we have tennis courts and baseball diamonds. Who knows we may have a swimming pool yet? Hearken, all ye maidens fair! Don't forget this Beauty Contest sponsored by Clyde C. Young, Real Estate. You may be Miss Arlington! Remember that taste in clothing is going to count a lot. If you haven't one of those peach and cream complexion, beautiful curly hair, dimpled cheeks, etc., never fret, the plainest girl can be made the most attractive by careful choosing of dress.

Come on girls! Just be careful of color style and lines of dress and you may have that "certain something" that will make those judges sit up and take notice!
And now "Big Ears" hear that:

Mr. and Mrs. S. Stange and their little son, Bobby, of Chicago spent the week end at the Kral home on South Mitchell.

Miss Alma Masten visited friends and relatives in Moline, Illinois during her Fourth of July vacation from De Kalb Normal where she is taking a summer course.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burns spent the Fourth of July on their farm in Wisconsin.

Mr. William Kind living on South Walnut has returned home from Wyoming where he has been for the past month.

Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Barrett returned home Monday after a visit in Addison, Michigan with friends and relatives. Their two daughters, Harriet and Grace, will remain in Michigan for a two months' visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Mitchell were to Gilman, Illinois over the Fourth. They had a jolly time at a large family gathering.

Former School Principal Is Now a Married Man

Kenneth Gustafson, former instructor at the Arlington Heights grade school and later principal of the Palatine public school is married and has been since June 15. The delay in the announcement of the above important news is no fault of the editor who had received a tip early in June that the 15th of that month was the date. The fault lies with the bridegroom, who the day that school closed, blushing denied the "charge" and the editor believed him.

"Gus" has kept out of the editor's way since then, but he did introduce his bride to a few Palatine friends Tuesday evening. The marriage took place on the above date at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Olson, of Norwood Park, parents of the bride. An auto trip was taken to the Dells, the car passing thru Palatine at forty or more miles an hour.

We extend congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Gustafson, along with other Arlington Heights and Palatine friends.

Mr. Gustafson likes very much his research work with the International Harvester Company.

OBSERVER'S NOTES

It is indeed a great relief, To meet with folks with some belief; Though all opposed to mine One dreads to hear a person say, "I believe nothing any way" No anchor and no line.

To start with they state they believe nothing. Why every morning they look to see the sun bring day to the world and every night they lie down to sleep, believing all unconsciously that they will see the light of a new day. They believe in God though they know it not. When some great catastrophe overtakes them, they call upon His name.

O, yes and they come home hungry and they believe supper will be ready and it is in these modern days it may be in tin cans or paper sacks, but it satisfies the modern man's appetite or we hope it does and he? O, he believes his June bride is the 8th wonder of the world.

The thought is: It is better for each human being to have some settled ideas of belief, some philosophy of life. Religion if you so choose to call it. In the end it means belief in God, the giver of all the things. That one who sincerely believes, even though his ability to express or interpret his belief is better than one who boasts he has no belief.

Let's talk about cherries. We all believe in the cherry crop and this year they tell us it has been a failure this year. Arlington Heights is always the banner cherry town. There is no place in this part of the state has been more noted for its fine cherry orchard and the perfection of this wonderful fruit.

It was the Linneans Society of Chicago who came out to enjoy the fine cherries produced in the orchard of Mr. J. W. Burkett, who named him the cherry king. The orchard is now old compared to many more recently planted out, but Mr. Burkett's daughter, Mrs. Arthur Schmitt had her father with her the 4th, when she entertained a company of 75 guests.

The Fesslers have some fine cherries on the old Spring Lawn farm. Well do we recall the old cherry orchard on that place over 30 years ago. No doubt those Mrs. Fessler speaks of are of later setting. By the way, glad to see the progress made with which the Fesslers are meeting the encroachment of these large dairy monopolists. A card announces that the Fessler Dairy is putting in pasteurizing equipment and from their tested herd, they will be able to produce the most safe and sanitary "lacteal fluid" any dairy can send out.

The large dealers, the chain stores and big monopolies seem determined to crush and drive out the small town or small city dealers. They had best prepare to meet them with something better than they can offer the public. Fish eat little fish and these have fish to bite 'em, and these eat other little fish and so a-infinitum. So it is in business the big dealer swallow up the smaller and so adinfinitum.

By the way, did you know about the third daughter of the Sadecky's Miss Mildred? Since her mother's death, her older sister has to take the helm in the store and home affairs, and this young girl takes the truck, goes to the city to the markets and buys the things needed for their trade. Mr. Cuny, who is an expert in the sort of produce she buys, says Miss Mildred is a discreet and careful buyer and they can put no poor grade stuff off on her. At any rate she is courageous.

Rather a unique experience Dr. and Mrs. Draper in riding over the country up in McHenry. I believe it was a huge swarm of bees settled on their car as they were going on the road. They spilled or smeared honey at which Dr. Draper was sore vexed, and not in the exact mood to appreciate the novelty of the situation. Bees are called wise, but they, like wise humans, often do some very freakish things.

Notice that those who have something they have labored for and cared for just when they are ready to make use of it, along comes some dishonest individual and gathers it in. Mrs. Fehlman speaking of the cherry crop thought it the poorest in years, and said she had not enough cherries to make a pie. This brought to mind our experience the morning of the 4th. The night previous we thought we would leave the cherries on two of our trees for a pie the 4th, went over early to get them, when lo, there was not a cherry left on the trees. No birds never gathered them so clean. It was two legged birds, the kind that have no feathers and no song.

It used to be such a quiet place down here in the meadow, yet since the race track has come, noise and confusion invades our blessed peace. Autos, flying machines, steam cars and just folks and dogs, making more noise than are dreamed of in our philosophy or in the loop. There is no more a quiet place on this frantic, hectic life of ours. Yet we have the promise of peace, when the prince of peace shall reign in our hearts.

We read not long ago about some Americans touring Brazil, who were chased by wild men who sang, shouted and danced. Someone says they must have been real estate men or promoters. O no, they don't work that way, they work on the "quiet" more like it was baseball teams trying to explain their national game or possibly a ladies and or quiting bee, or a woman's club, practicing parliamentary drill.

Noise is distracting to all human beings. Through loud explosive sounds, through steam whistles the ceaseless rumble of machinery even the strongest individuals harmfully effected the week are never torn and find no rest. The sick are many times hastened out of life by noise. Glad to see Dr. Bundesen is telling some plain truths about the affect of noises on the human system, hope it will help to subdue some needless noises.

A friend has been telling me of a woman in her town, who is good, painfully good. By this I mean she carries her innate desire to "be good" and do good so far that she sometimes becomes an annoyance. After all, it is a difficult problem to determine when our impulses to be kind and helpful to others, are the wisest to follow.

Whoever does his best, In his own place; And patient waits, Will, through God's blessed grace, Find peace and rest.

Whoever bears a cross, A cruel hurt or pain; And silent goes his way, Will find the greater gain, His goal refined from dross.

Whoever cheerful says, When clouds are in the sky; Be patient troubled heart, Light breaketh by and by, Is wise in all his ways, Trusting in God.

Whoever walks alone, Amid the noisy crowd, Silent with aching heart, Still patient and unbowed, Unrecognized, unknown, Still bravely does his part.

There are so many good, kindly people in our town, not making loud professions or making records on church attendance (though that is well) but what I mean is just plain, kindly folks in every day life, who try to do good as well as be good, and such an instance comes to notice this week when eleven of Mrs. J. Bauer's associate workers in the Creamery Package Co. plant clubbed together and bought her a beautiful rug.

If those eleven ladies could have seen the beautiful light on their friend's face when she showed the rug and related the story of how it came to be hers, they would rejoice that they were led to do such a kindly thing. They not only gave joy to their friend, but her joy in telling of it brought a great wave of gladness to me, as I saw her pleasure, a loving deed like a candle sends a far beam of light.

Boy Scout Notes

Boy Scouts are Thrifty

Weekly scout meeting for Troop 7 of Arlington Heights is held in the high school gymnasium every Monday evening starting at 7:30.

Time is a valuable possession with which every real Scout is Thrifty and of which he spends little in an unproductive manner.

More time is wasted by being late than by idle moments for the late comer wastes not only his own time but the time of others.

Be a real Scout, be on time.

Wolf Cubs meet at the same time in Room 7 of the high school, under the direction of advanced scouts. Visitors are welcome.

Who says we haven't much ahead of us this month?

the beautiful flowers Mrs. Lucy Marieber cultivates at her beautiful home, corner of State road and Miner street. She tells us she has decided on a new plan to rid her vacant lot of the rank weeds that grow and wax strong on the unkept space. So she sows flower seeds all over the lot and the flowers grow up, try titles with the weeds and in a measure overcome the unsightly and obnoxious appearance of the weed ruled lot.

Who shall say the world grows more darkly wicked when the farther one goes on the way of life the more good one discovers in humanity. This is the experience of your humble friend who writes these notes. We are becoming anxious or rather ambitious candidates into the circle of landscape gardeners. That's a fact all inspired by the generous gifts of plants given to us by Mrs. Helen Garland. This bed of pansies under the lilacs. The chrysanthemums growing into tree proportions mix and blend so beautifully with our wild flower scheme. Now isn't that landscape gardening. Tell you, I believe florists and landscape gardeners are of the really good sort. All in our town are so given to good works. Mr. Harry S. Garland took us with his mother and wife for the grandest ride and once for a minute or two we rode 60 miles an hour. These good people are too kind and generous to be money getters. Yet they say much with flowers.

NORTH WESTERN EMPLOYEES' BIG PICNIC SUNDAY

The fifth annual benefit picnic of the Employees' Picnic association of the Wisconsin division of the Chicago and North Western railroad will be held at Northwestern Park in the forest preserve at Des Plaines, Sunday, weather permitting.

A complete program of sports and entertainment has been arranged by a committee and there will be many special prizes. There will be games, dancing, wrestling, boxing, baseball, races and stunts in variety.

The day will start with a ball game between two girls' ball teams from the Ravenswood office, the Overlands and the Vikings.

Teams of the Wisconsin and Galena divisions will play at 12:30 o'clock.

A tug of war between the engineers and the trainmen will be at 2 o'clock.

Music will be by Tomiskey's band the Northwestern band orchestra, Mrs. Clark's orchestra, and the North Western post, American legion, life and drum corps.

The picnic is not for employees only, but for everyone who will enjoy the sports and entertainment. Local employees are selling tickets at 50 cents each. The proceeds go to assisting needy or emergency cases in families of people working for the railroad.

Elroy Winkelman Pilots Airship In Sales Contest

"Cast off!" will be the shout heard Monday morning, when Elroy Winkelman of Winkelman Tire and battery shop, signals to his crew that their big airship is ready to nose its way skyward in the Goodyear Zeppelin race.

Goodyear is staging this contest among its dealers throughout the United States and has assigned to each dealer a mythical Zeppelin. All the Zeppelins leave Akron, Ohio, on Monday morning and are due at the California factory in Los Angeles by Saturday night. Each sale of a tire or tube by a dealer carries his Zeppelin so many miles toward the goal.

During the weeks to follow, the airships are scheduled to "moor" at various other Goodyear factories and plantations throughout the world, including Litchfield, Arizona, Gadsden, Alabama, Australia, Sumatra, England, Massachusetts and Canada. The finish will be in Akron.

"As we sail by sales," states "Winkie", "we are going to offer tire-buyers every inducement to help us win."

"This is the greatest sales race which has ever been held among tire dealers, and if we can bring home cases in families of people working for the railroad."

the winners, it will be one of the proudest moments of our lives."

Education's Value

It has been estimated that the daily value of education in an elementary school is $9; in a high school, $40, and in a college, $100. This study was based upon a survey of less than a thousand people and for that reason it is subject to inaccuracy.

The club house will add considerable to the value of this district and although private in nature, a member may bring his friends to enjoy the afternoon and evening in Mt. Prospect's atmosphere. It is hoped to complete the building at an early date, with the idea that events may be held there this fall and winter. ## Announces New System of Motor Car Lubrication

A new system of motor car lubrication, one that eliminates guesswork at the grease rack, has been announced by Wolf Coal and Oil company at Mount Prospect. Prepared with the assistance of every large automobile manufacturer in the industry the new management insures complete and scientifically correct lubrication for the entire chassis and motor of every American-built passenger car.

"Nothing is more important in passenger car lubrication than that every single lubrication point should receive the proper kind and amount of lubricant at regular intervals," says Mr. Wolf. "Naturally, every attempt is made to see that lubrication points are overlooked while a car is on the grease rack. But the number and variety of cars on the road today make it almost impossible to prevent a certain amount of guesswork. Unless a man knows every detail of every car, it is difficult to make sure that nothing has been overlooked—that every grease fitting and bearing has had attention.

Insures Absolute Accuracy.
"The new system we have just adopted is known as 'Check-Chart, the Grease Rite System'. It practically puts a factory trained lubrication engineer at the elbow of the man who is going over your car. It points out to him all lubrication points and the kind of lubrication for each one and leaves no room for his possibly making a mistake. This 'Check-Chart System' consists of a book of big, legible lubrication charts of every passenger car made, including the very latest as well as models several years old. The charts were carefully prepared in collaboration with factory service engineers and are absolutely correct in every detail.

"Every point on the car requiring lubrication is numbered and located by an arrow on the diagram of the chassis. Beneath the diagram these numbers are listed in order with the name of every part opposite its number as well as the character of lubrication that particular part should receive.

How System Operates.
"When your car goes on the grease rack the operator turns to the proper chart, checks it with the serial number on the car to insure absolute identification. Then, starting with No. 1—usually the left front spring bolt—works right around the car, treating each point in order and missing none.

"The charts show the capacities of crankcase, transmission and differential. Even tire inflation pressure and the capacity of the cooling system are plainly indicated on the chart. Not a single important factor has been overlooked in their preparation.

"So, as the life and service of a motor car depend on the care and thoroughness with which it is lubricated," concludes Mr. Wolf, "we now have a system that enables us to guarantee a greasing and oiling job to be as complete and efficient as it would be done at the factory where the car was built."

GYM CLUB MAKES PROGRESS

The Civil Gym Club is getting into its real order now and with the members all taking active parts in both the outdoor and indoor work. Tuesday evening the members got together for at least two hours of real work, then when they have worked all the extra slack out of their system, they are ready and fit for another week of enthusiastic work.

Fred Meeske is president and Geo. L. Busse is secretary, while Otto H. Landeck is treasurer.

The Lutheran school auditorium serves as the gym and it lends itself to the occasion in wonderful fashion, some fast games of volleyball are played that would make many teams sit up and take notice.

It is hoped that the time will come when our volleyball teams will meet some of the teams from neighboring towns in a series of match games.

A. C.'s Tounce Long Grove by Good Playing

On the local diamond Sunday our A. C. Nine met the invading Long Grove's team, which team had been well strengthened, and also carried this thought foremost in mind, "that they were going to avenge the defeat they suffered on their own diamond some time ago." But their aim and highest expectations were not realized for when the "dust of battle" had settled the score stood Mt. Prospect A. C.'s 11, Long Grove, 7.

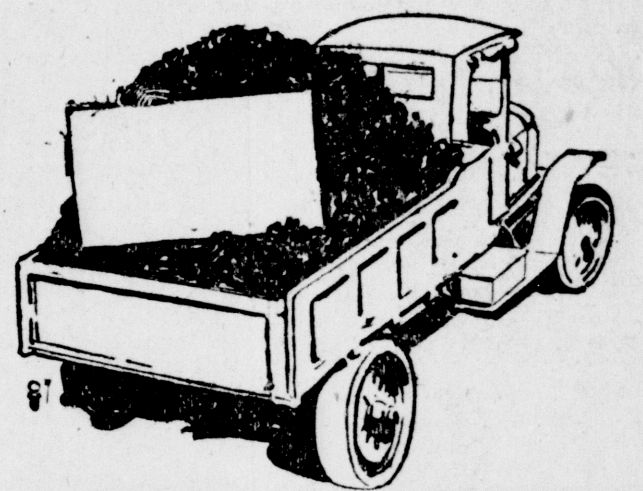

Len Wuerffel in the box for the A. C.'s allowed only four hits which statement sounds odd, when the visitors tallied seven times. The score was run up to the above by wild throws on the part of some of our players, but right here it must be said that "every member of our team fielded well, and are a bunch, full of pep and always striving to give that brand of ball that the customer likes. The game the past Sunday was a profitable one, inasmuch as experience was concerned for our boys and our many fans can back up this statement next Sunday, when, with Len Wuerffel in the box, and all the other boys on their pins, behind him, they meet Wheeling here. Be there and boost our boys to victory.

The Juniors met defeat Sunday when they crossed bats with the fast going Fairview Kennels Nine. The score at the end of the game stood Fairview Kennels, 12, Mt. Prospect Juniors, 9. Be on hand for the return game and give our going youngsters a hand.

EAST MAINE

Alfred Schellin and a party of friends, motored to Starved Rock July 4th and report an enjoyable trip.

St. Matthews church calendar for the next two weeks include the annual church picnic, Sunday, July 14, and the second quarterly business meeting of the congregation, Sunday, July 21. The picnic will be on the church grounds, starting at noon and lasting as long as you please. Everybody invited to attend and enjoy the day.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jaacks, Mrs. Wm. Tegtmeyer and sons, Billy and Roy, enjoyed a trip to the Wisconsin Delta Friday, taking in all the sights there and returning home Saturday evening.

Besides the usual patriotic celebration July 4, there were some birthday parties in this community on that great day. Mr. Charles Schuknecht, Sr., celebrated his birthday anniversary at the home of his son, Charles, Jr., while Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gahagan entertained in honor of their little daughter, Phyllis. A large crowd of the Gahagan's friends from the city were present and spent a pleasant day in the country. A beautiful display of fireworks in the evening brought to a close the happy day.

The last meeting of the town board of Auditors Mr. Fred Stoelting was given the appointment of Thistle Commissioner for this territory. Mr. Stoelting is considered ably qualified for the job and will conscientiously discharge those duties entrusted to him, so thistles, watch out!

A twenty-first birthday anniversary occurs but once in a life time so is well worth celebrating. Thus thought Helmut Lainer and accordingly fifty of his young friends gathered at his home Saturday evening to help him celebrate the happy occasion. The chief amusement of the evening was dancing to the tune of concertina and sax played by none other than the popular young musicians, George Ahrens and John Goettsche. Tasty sandwiches, cake and coffee were served at midnight. It was early morning the party broke up, the happy crowd assuring Helmut they had had a wonderful time. He also received many fine birthday gifts which will be lasting remembrances of the time when he was twenty-one.

East Maine Regulars
Lose to Glenview

Although getting to Glenview's pitcher, McMahon, for 18 hits, the East Maine nine were unable to score more than 5 runs, in Sunday's game, trailing their hosts by eight runs in the final count. Jacobs, pitching for East Maine strove valiantly to hold down the Glenview artillery, but he lacked support and half dozen errors were made, occurring at critical times as errors always do, all helped to lose the game for East Maine.

One hit and no runs in the first inning for East Maine, and to start the second Vonderberg was hit and sent to first, Tamilio sacrificed Bernie going to second and scoring on a safe hit by Bud Wilson. The latter, although reaching third safely, was left stranded there when Lehman flied to left field and Jacobs' pop to third beat him to the first sack. In the fourth, matters looked promising, there were four singles and a double by Jacobs, but Tamilio and Wilson were the only two to score, Vonderberg being caught running bases, Lehman being thrown out at home and Jacobs and Archam dying on second and first when Cook's infield fly made an out on third. A pretty play ensued in the sixth. Wilson flied to center and Lehman reached first on the first sack's error; Jacobs knocked a lousy wallop that netted him a triple and sent Steeny home with the fourth run. Jacobs, however was out at home and Archam, the singling, was caught enroute. The final run was added in the sixth when Barber and Vonderberg got safe hits, the latter however getting on farther than third.

Glenview scored 5 the first two innings, off 5 hits, 1 error and a pass. In the fourth a fumble by the third baseman put McMahon on first, Welsh walked, Sullivan hit safe, and Morin reached first on an error. Then Burmeister fanned for the first out, Tagtmeyer flied out to second and Braun's double was in vain when Estes struck out. In the sixth Morin doubled and scored, but Burmeister after bunting safely and attempting to score, was out at the plate. An error at third was responsible for another run in the seventh while the 12th and 13th runs in the eighth were made off three hits.

Jacobs of East Maine gave 12 hits, walked 2 and struck out 13, McMahon gave 18 hits and hit one man. Three-base hit, Jacobs, two-base hits Wilson, Jacobs, Sullivan, Morin (2), Braun.

Next Sunday East Maine will play the Howard Storage team on the East Maine Diamond.

East Maine Juniors
Win and Lose One

In Sunday's game between the Junior teams of East Maine and Niles Center, the East Maine Juniors walked away from their visitors to the tune of 19 to 5. The game started off evenly enough with a 3 to 2 score at the end of the first inning in East Maine's favor. No one scored in the second and third, but oh, that fourth inning! If nothing else it was good batting practice for the home boys, for batting more than once around 14 men faced the opposing pitcher in that frame. And they knocked him for 5 singles, 5 two-buggers, 1 home run and 1 walk scoring 11 runs in a bunch. Frank Lueth scored the first run in that inning while pitcher Bill Selkie's home run brot in the eleventh. Not content with that score, the boys proceeded to amass three more runs in the fifth off two hits and two free passes to first which were handed G. Selkie and M. Moeller. Bill Selkie walked and scored one more in the sixth and just for good measure Schaur added run No. 10 in the 8th. Although acquiring 12 hits throughout the game, Niles Center was unable to get more than 5 men home. Their first two runs came in the first on three hits, then again in the 8th they scored 2 more, off 3 hits, and a last one in the ninth off 1 hit and 1 walk. The East Maine field work was good and many of the balls hit by the Niles Centers found their way into the waiting gloves of the home boys.

Selkie gave 7 hits, walked 1 and struck out 8. Joey Ahrens, who took Bill's place on the mound for the last three innings, gave 5 hits, walked 1 and struck out 3. The 2 Niles Center pitchers gave 26 hits, Walked 6 and struck out 8. Home run, B. Selkie; 2-base hits, Gardened (2), H. Moeller, G. Selkie, J. Goettsche, Ahrens, Suckow, Bree and Frankie. Each team had three errors.

In the game at Mt. Prospect, July 4, East Maine came home with the short end of a 6 to 5 score. 2 singles, 2 passes, a double and an error, tell the story of how Mount Prospect scored 4 runs in the second inning giving them a 4 run lead over East Maine who until the sixth inning were given but 2 hits. In that frame, Lueth and Jonas singled and scored their first two runs and in the seventh 2 more were added by Geo. Selkie and Frank Lueth, tying the score at 4 to 4. But Mt. Prospect in their half of the seventh broke the tie by Red Holst's homerun and in the 8th added one more with Froemling's run. East Maine was unable to do anything in the eighth and in the final inning Martin Moeller brot in the fifth run and that was all. In that game Selkie gave 9 hits, 2 passes and struck out 14 men. Fos did handing out 12 hits and 11 strikeouts.

Sunday, July 14, the Mt. Prospect Juniors will play the East Maine Juniors on the latter's diamond in East Maine. Game will start at 2 o'clock.

Colorful Story and Music in "The Divine Lady"

The past years with their glory and ignominy, their romance and bitter conflict, are revived in "The Divine Lady," Corinne Griffith's first First National Vitaphone picture which appears at the Pickwick Theatre July 15, 16, and 17.

Adapted from the popular novel by E. Barrington and directed by Frank Lloyd, whose many famous screen successes have placed him in the front rank of directorial figures, "The Divine Lady" tells the story of Lord Nelson and Lady Hamilton, of the great victory for England and cost it the life of its greatest admiral.

Glowing with color, both musical and scenic, dramatic to the extreme, filled with tender love passages alternating with the din of battle and the clash of highly-strung temperaments, a virtual page out of history, the story of a love that was too great for life—these are features of the picture in which Corinne Griffith in the role of Emma, Lady Hamilton, presents a characterization greater than any in which she has hitherto been seen.

AMONG THE THEATRES

"Idle Rich" at Harding Theatre

"The Idle Rich" an all talking picture which opens at the Harding Theatre starting Saturday, July 13.

"The Idle Rich," adapted from the novel, "White Collars," is a gripping tale of marriage between parties of different social sets. Conrad Nagel plays the role of a serious-minded millionaire who marries his pretty stenographer, Lella Hyams. Bessie Love has the fast-moving comedy role of the bride's little flapper sister. All sorts of comedy, human interest and true-to-life complications are injected into the plot when he meets her family.

Famous Screen Star in Huge Production "Twin Beds" Picture

The Chicago theater, Friday, will celebrate the biggest event in the city this year—the personal appearance of Charles (Buddy) Rogers himself, on the stage. This will be the first time that the famous young star of "Wings" has made a public appearance in the Middle West, and incidentally, the first time that any great screen star has interrupted his studio work for a personal appearance this far from Hollywood.

Advance reports indicate that Chicago will find Charles (Buddy) Rogers even more irresistible on the stage than on the screen—he sings, plays musical instruments, tells funny stories and he tells tales of Hollywood.

Around "Buddy" Rogers the Chicago theater is presenting a gorgeous stage creation, "Say It With Flowers," gay with girls, funny with comedians, brilliant with color, featuring Lou Kosloff and His Orchestra.

On the screen, Friday, will be Margaret Mayo's noted comedy-romance, "Two Brides." It made the whole world laugh when it was produced on the stage, but "Twin Beds" on the all-talking screen is destined to be remembered as the most outrageously funny, daring and wildly youthful comedy of the year.

Myrna Loy is Lead Opposite McLaglen "The Black Watch"

Myrna Loy, who plays the feminine lead in the all-talking sensation, "The Black Watch," starring Victor McLaglen, is claimed to be one of the most colorful and exotic personalities on the present-day screen.

"Yasmani," a voluptuous figure, exotic, mysterious, a she-devil with whom many men matched wits only to come out second best. The stellar role, played by McLaglen, is that of "Captain Donald Gordon King," of the famous "Black Watch," the nickname for the 42nd Highlanders.

"The Black Watch," which enters its third week next Saturday at United Artists theatre, is expected to prove the greatest directorial triumph of John Ford, the man who produced "Four Sons," and more than a score of other film successes.

New Scenes Added to "The Trial of Mary Dugan" at Roosevelt

In "The Trial of Mary Dugan," directed by Bayard Veiller from his famous stage success, which is now in its second week at the Roosevelt theatre as a 100 per cent talking feature, audiences will see a departure from the original stage play.

Norma Shearer plays the leading feminine role in the thrilling courtroom drama which comes to the screen after several years of sensational theater runs in many cities in the United States and in London and Paris abroad. Featured with her are Lewis Stone, defense attorney; Raymond Hackett, the brother of the accused girl, who eventually saves her; and H. B. Warner, the prosecuting attorney.

All-Talking All-Baffling on Senate Theatre Screen

Three of the most exciting words in the English language compose the title of the Senate theatre feature for next week, starting Saturday, July 13. It is "The Studio Murder Mystery" and the story is as exciting and thrilling as its title.

A cast of stars, many of them highlights of the Broadway stage, act this strange and highly entertaining drama of a mystery originating in the dim shadows of a moving picture studio and involving six of Hollywood's most absorbing characters.

There are two murders. The story deals with the search for a bold killer who covers up his tracks so cleverly that six persons are suspected and accused and one is convicted of the crime he committed. Suddenly the guilty man is unmasked in a most surprising and unexpected manner through the efforts of a hanger-on of the studio. The mystery is sustained to the end and it is, indeed, a mystery.

and returned in said Court, payable in five (5) annual installments, bearing interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum, the final hearing thereon will be had on the 20th day of July, A. D. 1929, at ten o'clock A. M., or as soon thereafter as the business of the Court will permit.

All persons desiring may file objections in said Court before said day and may appear on the hearing and make their defense.

CLARENCE W. ANDERSON, Commissioner. Dated at Tressville, Illinois, the 5th day of July, A. D. 1929.

Opening of "Broadway Melody" Gives Thrill

Bessie Love believes that she has experienced the biggest thrill of her life. It was at the premiere opening out in Hollywood of "The Broadway Melody," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's first all-talking, all-singing and all-dancing production a brilliant dramatic sensation which opened at the Des Plaines Theatre on Friday and Saturday.

"I wanted to laugh and cry at the same time," the little Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer player said. "I was bewildered by the unexpected outburst and trembled all over for hours afterward. There was no sleep for me that night!"

Featured with Miss Love in the leading roles are Charles King, New York musical comedy star and Anita Page.

The story, an original for the screen written by Edmund Goulding, tells the inside story of the lives of show people, the drama of their romances, tragedies, comedies and little humors. It makes an absorbing, gripping entertainment.

The most brilliant scene in the picture re-creates a Broadway musical comedy revue. A chorus of sixty professional dancers appear in this scene.

Its song numbers, specially written by Arthur Freed, who wrote the lyrics and Nacio Herb Brown, who composed the music, are already numbered among the season's musical hits.

Harry Beaumont, responsible for "Our Dancing Daughters," and other screen successes, directed.

"Innocents of Paris" To Uptown Theatre

Straight from his sensational run at the United Artists Theatre in the loop comes one of the most electrifying personalities the theatrical world has ever known. Maurice Chevalier, the idol of France, in an all-talking, all-singing, American made motion picture production, "Innocents of Paris," which opens Friday, July 12, at the Uptown Theatre.

With these attributes it is easy to understand why he has made such a pronounced impression in America where he is appearing for the first time on the screen. In "Innocents of Paris" he gives a charming, unaffected, happy-go-lucky portrayal of a junk dealer, who, through his street singing attracts the attention of a theatrical magnate who stars him in one of his famous revues and proves to be the biggest sensation of the times. It is a romance of back stage life with underlying drama running through it.

Chevalier sings eight songs during the performance, featured among which is "Louise," the famous American hit. On the Uptown stage next week, Verne Buze and his orchestra will present a scintillating revue of thrills, frills and foibles called "Laces and Graces."

"Keep Kool" with Kvale at the Oriental Theatre. A delightful spray of fun descends on the Oriental theatre stage Friday, July 12, called "Keep Kool," a production as refreshing as a cool breeze from the lake.

Al Kvale and his Jazz Collegians will take their audiences to a sylvan dell where the fun is wholesome and jolly—where singing wood nymphs and dancing beauties will tell the secret of how to "Keep Kool." Al promises to present something entirely different next week—the stage sets, the costumes, the songs, in fact, everything but Al's music, which has a reputation for being of the terrier variety, will suggest coolness to those trying to escape the city's annual July hot spell.

The Four Marx Bros. Bring 'Cocoanuts' To The McVickers

The Four Marx Brothers, accredited as the funniest family in the world, are now playing at McVickers theatre as stars of their own production, "The Cocoanuts," an all-talking, all-singing filmization of their great musical comedy stage success.

With the making of "The Cocoanuts," the first comedy musical comedy, taken in its entirety from the stage, was transferred to the talking screen.

"The Cocoanuts," with the Four Marx Brothers to provide all the fun, is frankly built and produced for laughter and foolishness. As a stage play it was a proven property. For more than two years it played to capacity audiences at the Lyric theatre in New York. It combined the humor and wit of smart, clever writing with the imitable fun provided by the four brothers, whose clowning has established them as funsters beyond comparison. New York paid regular theatre prices to hear it. Boston and other important metropolitan cities are doing likewise.

Mary Eaton and Oscar Shaw, stars in this city recently of "The Price O' O'Girl," play important roles in "The Cocoanuts." Upon them the romance of the piece depends. They sing a number of songs especially written for this screen version by Irving Berlin. Another feature of the production is the smart and snappy work of a huge chorus that numbers, according to reports, 80 girls.

Then They Always Cook 'Em. Tom was spending the week end with his aunt in a neighboring town. One morning the aunt turned in on a station that was broadcasting the news of the day. "Aunt Lou," said the lad, "please don't listen to that lady; she'll talk about carrots and spinach and make you cook them."

NORTHBROOK TO CELEBRATE ON AUGUST 10TH

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Mathias Herrmann attended the Reformed Dutch church of Northfield, a round trip of 10 miles which they walked every time they went to church. No, this wasn't last Sunday, but a Sunday some 75 years ago. It is just one of the historic episodes in the pageant of progress which will take the place of the parade as the central feature of the Northbrook Day celebration August 10.

It seems a far cry from the old days when our hardy ancestors walked 10 miles on Sunday to attend church because they believed that horses used for farm work should rest on Sunday. Today with church only a scant mile away, many would find it hard to attend if the auto insisted on a rest. And Mrs. Herrmann also walked from Northfield to Northbrook with a pack of wool and a bag of flour on her shoulder or with other needed supplies. While another early citizen of Northfield commuted to and from Highland Park on foot to get work at 50 cents a day.

The Northbrook Day Pageant committee announces that the history of the region is full of colorful pictures and invites organizations in all neighboring towns as well as in Northbrook to share in portraying them on August 10th. The committee wants to appeal especially to children and young people but all organizations, family groups and others will be welcome to compete for the prizes which will be awarded both for excellence in costume and in the presentation of historical scenes.

The committee has issued an outline of the pageant and the first organization or group to apply for each period will have the exclusive right to its presentation. The 15 divisions of the community history, as outlined, follow:

(1) The background, colonial or other, out of which the first settlers in this region came. (2) The prairie schooner days in which the settlers arrive in covered wagons. (3) Log cabin days with their hardships and contacts with the Indians. (4) The pony express. (5) Impersonations of early settlers. (6) The gold rush. (7) "Forty-niners." (8) Civil war days. (9) Early schools. (10) Early churches. (11) A picture of the 80's with songs or dances in costume. (12) The first railroad. (13) Then and now: Contrasting methods of transportation, etc. (14) Spanish war days. (15) The town's share in the World war. (16) The beginnings of the present civic organizations.

The committee states that this outline is not necessarily complete and will consider other historical material which groups may wish to submit. Organizations planning to take part should apply either to the president of the Northbrook Civic Association or to Mrs. Ruth Pettiss, chairman of the pageant committee as soon as possible. Each group will be allotted a place in the parade and in addition will have 5 minutes in which to present a historical picture on the stage in the grove. Members of the committee will cooperate in suggesting historical material and settings.

In previous years the prizes on Northbrook Day have been awarded chiefly to commercial floats, decorated automobiles, commercial vehicles, etc. It is the intention this year to eliminate these features and to turn the parade entirely to children and marching organizations taking part in this attempt to portray the historical background of our community. All the prizes will be awarded for excellence in such historical representation, including individual prizes for praiseworthy costumes.

And Now The Airplane Phone

In 1903, when Marconi was still trying to convince a skeptical world that his apparatus could actually project word signals through the air, no one would believe him.

Last month a newspaper reporter had a good story. "I'm all up in the air about it," he told his city editor over the telephone. And he really was up in the air—2,000 feet, participating in the first two-way communication between the air and the earth. He heard and was heard just as if he had been in an ordinary telephone booth on the ground. The transmission was clear and was effected in the ordinary way.

The reporter put in his call, the number being repeated by the operator, and the connection then being established. He then gave his story to one of the rewrite men at the desk.

All this sounds so commonplace, but that successful experiment opened a new field for radio-telephony. It is operated from the passenger of a plane en route to Washington, for instance, to put in a call for his office or home, and deliver a message just as if it were an ordinary long-distance call, and vice versa.

The sending set making possible this aerial transmission is small and compact, weighing only seven pounds, and is far more sensitive than sets used in former experiments. It is operated from a generator driven by a small propeller on one of the airplane's struts.

The reporter, sitting a few feet behind the motor, wore an ordinary headpiece and spoke into a microphone equipped with a rubber fringe. This fringe deadened the sound of the engine so much that the person talking at the other end was only aware of a slight rumble in the background.

"I am sending you this story," spoke the reporter, "from a plane in flight. We are up 2,500 feet and climbing steadily. Outside the window I can see the small generator which is transmitting this message. Our speed is 110 miles an hour, and we are over a small town in which the houses look like those blocks that children play with." And much more.

The experiments were considered to be more successful because the weather was rainy and foggy.

COMPENSATION

By Edgar A. Guest.
I'd like to think when life is done
That I had filled a needed post,
That here and there I'd paid my fare
With more than idle talk and boast;

That I had taken gifts divine,
The breath of life and manhood fine,
And tried to use them now and then
In service for my fellow man.

I'd hate to think when life is thru
That I had lived my round of years
A useless kind, that leaves behind
No record in this vale of tears;

That I had wasted all my days
By treading only selfish ways,
And that this world would be the same
If it had never known my name.

I'd like to think that here and there,
When I am gone, there shall remain
A happier spot that might have not
Existed had I toiled for gain;

That some one's cheery voice and smile
Shall prove that I had been worth while;
That I had paid with something fine
My debt to God for life divine.

Value of German Language to the English Speaking

Stonehouse, Eng.

In English-speaking countries, Latin and French are almost universally studied; German and Greek are considered as optional subjects and only a few go far with them.

At Randolph College, Gloucester, for some years ago to provide a secondary education on a public school lines for working-class boys, Greek has been placed first in the educational scheme; the results have been notable. And well they only moon to the Greek sun; and, in modern studies—Lessing, Goethe and Schiller drank deeply of the true Greek atmosphere. It is equally true, that the great classical authors of German literature were imbued with a profound appreciation of Milton, Shakespeare, Richardson, and Goldsmith. It was in fact the impact of English and Greek studies on German thought which made possible the great masterpieces of Klopstock, Lessing, Goethe, and Schiller. Notwithstanding that German (like Greek) grammar is somewhat full, and at first a little puzzling, its idiom and poetry and drama are germane to English.

In teaching a language, the teacher's first thought should be to give the pupil a sense of the value of the language in it. Very early in the course—long before grammar is understood thoroughly—lyric poetry, read aloud, sung or rendered by a gramophone—should be introduced into the lessons. The teachers can translate the poem and leave the rest to its inherent beauty. If he can gather a few pupils in his rooms after work and let them become familiar with beautiful editions, a well-illustrated history of literature and sympathetic rendering of song and drama on a good gramophone, they will tackle linguistic difficulties with the enthusiasm of a gold miner staking a claim.

Twenty years' experience as pupil and teacher has convinced the writer that appreciation of the life and thought of a noble nation is readily awakened through a study of its literature. The gap between English and German is not so great. Not only are the two nations racially akin, but they are also alike in Modern English literature and modern German literature had their rise in the translations of the Bible by Tyndale and Luther respectively; the greatest authors of both races have acknowledged their supreme indebtedness to the Book of Books; and the consequent kinship was fostered from the beginning. The tracts of John Wycliffe inspired Luther and Durer, while William Tyndale had to translate the New Testament under the protection of Luther's followers. Without Wycliffe, no Luther; without Luther, no Tyndale. Similarly without Milton, no Klopstock. Without Shakespeare, no Goethe and Schiller.

The slight attention paid to German in English education is the more remarkable that the educational debt to Germany is so immense. The rejuvenation of classical history teaching inaugurated by Dr. Arnold was due to his profound study of Niebuhr. The meticulous thoroughness of Edward Thring's reform of boarding-school life
